Feargal McGroarty FIBMS, Project Manager
IMS Department, St. James's Hospital, Dublin, Ireland

Feargal has a long history with GS1 starting in 2005 with his involvement in the St James's Haemophilia traceability project. Since then he has been a fantastic champion in support the evolution of GS1 Standards in Healthcare and expansion of the Haemophilia traceability project to the patients homes...

He is a passionate and enthusiastic champion of GS1 Standards in Healthcare in St James's Hospital and beyond.

Feargal has also been one of the Tri-Chairs of HPAC since it was established and this year he was elected to the GS1 Healthcare Global Leadership Team.

It is therefore our immense pleasure to present Feargal McGroarty with the

Michael Innes, Program Director
National Supply Chain, Kaiser Permanente, Oakland, Ca, USA

The case study clearly outlined the long term vision of KP: using the Global Trade Identity Number (GTIN) in the Electronic Health Record (EHR) to identify products used during a procedure and compare their effectiveness against other similar products relative to patient outcomes...

“Excellent work with generalizable findings and global reach”

It is therefore our immense pleasure to present Michael Innes from Kaiser Permanente with the first GS1 Healthcare Provider Implementation Best Case Study Award...

Michael will present this case study tomorrow at the HPAC Working Lunch

Congratulations to our Winners!
